

Trump v Clinton

US Presidential Election

Literacy

After 15 months of campaigning, this was the showdown that the world had been waiting for. Hillary Clinton shook Donald Trump's hand at the beginning of their first presidential debate in New York. At home, 100 million people settled down to watch one of the biggest political events in modern history.

Literacy

Is this healthy political debate or just cheap bickering?

Literacy

Who won the first debate: Trump or Clinton?

Literacy

How depressing, say some. America, the leader of the free world, has a democracy that has been reduced to a reality TV show, where the candidate with the best camera skills is instantly declared the winner. Whatever happened to assessing the merit of policies and the reason of their arguments? The founding fathers — who prided themselves on rigorous intellectual debate — must be turning in their graves.

Literacy

Is America's 'reality TV' approach good for politics?

Should British politics be more like this?

Literacy

noun of the day

egalitarian

person who advocates or supports the principle of equality for all people.

The dictator laughed at the priest's egalitarian ideas and refused to see all people as equal.

Literacy

adjective of the day

brash

showing too much confidence and too little respect

He was brash, cocky and arrogant when giving his performance.

Literacy

What we do in life echoes in Eternity

gregarious

FIND OUT THE MEANING OF THIS WORD.

USE IT CORRECTLY IN YOUR WORK OR WHEN IN LESSON TO EARN P POINTS.

Word Banksy

